

FORUM CARPATICUM

September 15-17, 2010, Kraków, Poland

Integrating Nature and Society towards Sustainability

www.forumcarpaticum.org

Home

The Science for the Carpathians (S4C) initiative invites scientists, policy- and decision-makers working on, or interested in the sustainable development of the Carpathian region to the 1st Forum Carpaticum in Kraków, Poland, 15-17th September 2010.

Including a broad spectrum of scientific disciplines from both, the natural and social sciences, as well as practical knowledge, the Forum Carpaticum is an attempt to integrate different fields of expertise to generate value for the Carpathian mountain region.

The objectives of Forum Carpaticum are:

- to link research and practice in the field of coupled human-environmental systems in mountain regions;
- to support scientifically actions leading towards sustainability in the Carpathian region;
- to increase the visibility of the Carpathian region in the global change research agendas.

The Forum Carpaticum is an open meeting of the S4C. S4C is a regional science network targeting at supporting and streamlining mountain research in the Carpathians. More about S4C at <http://mri.scnatweb.ch/networks/mri-carpathians/>

Conference Language

The Forum Carpaticum will be held in English

S4C
Science for the Carpathians